Probity Medical Transcription Celebrates Growth Pennsylvania Provider Plans Nationwide Expansion

Harrisburg, PA - Probity Medical Transcription, a nationwide provider of electronic medical transcription and document management services to the healthcare industry, is preparing for major expansion thanks to recent venture funding from Penn Venture Partners, LP.

Probity has relocated its corporate headquarters to 5,000 square feet of premium office space across from the state Capitol in Harrisburg, PA to accommodate the company's growing staff. The move and the venture funding will accelerate the Company's expansion throughout the United States, and establish Probity as one of the premier providers of medical transcription and document management services in the Country.

David Plummer, Probity Chief Executive Officer and industry veteran, states "We are thrilled to be able to take our company to the next level at a time when there is such great demand for faster, more reliable medical reports. By expanding our services and our customer base, we will be providing top notch services to our health care clients, who can, in turn, ensure the highest quality medical records for their patients."

Probity Medical Transcription employs a pool of U.S. based medical transcriptionists in 38 states, utilizing a robust internet-based transcription platform. This integrated system provides consistency, reliability and ease of use for physicians and medical staff. Probity works with healthcare systems, acute care hospitals, multi-specialty clinics, and physician groups in over 30 states.
